Fence-Clearing Ordinance Put Off for Further Study

School Board Votes To By-Pass Planners

The Sierra Madre Shool Board voted unanimously Monday night to withdraw its petition from the Planning Commission requesting a permit to square off the school playground at Hermosa and Grand View.

The motion, made by Board Member Newell Barrett, a Sierra Madre attorney, also requested that the $35 filing fee be refunded.

Mr. Barrett explained that his motion was made on the advice of the office of the county counsel which said that the Board does not need Planning Commission authority to develop the playground for recreational purposes.

"The Board has the legal authority to develop the playground," Mr. Barrett said. "We have the power to do it and we should exercise that power . . . "

THE BOARD deferred action on plans for development of the playground until the next meeting Oct. 22. The advice of engineers and other experts on development will be sought before the final decision is made.

Also put off until a later date was a request from Vincent E. Garvin that he be permitted to buy a 10-foot strip of school property on the eastern side of the play area. Mr. Garvin said he wants to build a driveway into the rear of his property, which borders the playground, and also acquire land as a "buffer strip" separating his home from the school yard.

Monday night's Board meeting, attended by about 15 property owners, was moderate and well-mannered in contrast to an earlier meeting on the subject before the Planning Commission.

Nearly the entire session, with the exception of routine business during the first half-hour, was transcribed on a tape recorder. The Board plans to tape all future meetings and to refer to the tape, if necessary.

Noren Eaton, a Sierra Madre attorney representing property owners, argued that that playground development is a "matter of maintaining good relations" with surrounding property owners.

"They are asking," he said, "that you (the School Board) do not interfere with the privacy of their houses any more than is necessary. An examination of past Board minutes reveals that you have been somewhat less than frank."

He also argued that the playground actually will be developed for "educational purposes" and that the Board must obtain a conditional use permit from the Planning Commission.

LEE SHIPPEY, 299 Toyon Road, said area residents are a little perturbed by the idea that playground activity would not be limited to school children. He pointed out that night baseball, for example, would create a bad parking problem on Hermosa.

"These people would be happy," he said, "if they were assured the playground would be used for educational purposes only."

George Gerstenberg, 126 W. Grand View, said development of the playground will present a drainage problem that should be solved first before any development plans are made.

The Board members and School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt reiterated past statements that they have made absolutely no plans for the development of the north portion of the playground.

They referred particularly to reports that the Board was planning to build a school bus garage on playground property adjacent to Grand View. These reports were described by Mrs. Martha Coutant, Board secretary, as "verbal hearsay which commits us to nothing."

IN OTHER ACTION, the Board took some concrete steps in an attempt to raise the educational standards in the school system, particularly in the sixth grade. Recent tests taken by sixth graders revealed they were somewhat below average in achievement. (See editorial.)

The Board adopted the following steps in an attempt to help the situation:

1. Homework will continue to be assigned in all cases of prolonged absence and parents will be requested to require their children to complete the assignment satisfactorily and promptly.

2. Homework will be assigned in cases where a reasonable amount of classwork is consistently not completed during school hours.

3. Homework will be assigned at the discretion of the teacher with the amount being increased during the last quarter to help pupils grow in independent responsibility. Teachers will be required to follow through on homework.

4. All parents will be requested to attend individual conferences concerning the work of their children.

5. More objective tests will be given to determine progress made by students.

6. More remedial help will be provided to students requiring it. Mr. Skutt was authorized to spend $100 to set up a remedial help program.

Only Five More Dog Tag Days

Dog owners who want to keep Fido out of jail have until next Monday—Oct. 1—to get him a license.

Anyone applying after that date must pay an additional $2 penalty.

Also needed this year, in accordance with a recent ordinance, is a veterinarian's certificate showing Fido has had his rabies vaccination.

The Sierra Madre Police Department is open 24 hours a day, seven days weekly, for the benefit of license-seekers, among others.

3 From Area Enters Dems Contest

Three persons who long have been active in Sierra Madre activities are among six long-time voters entering a contest to find the Foothills area Democrat with the longest voting record.

The three are Alfred James Dewey, 82, well known Sierra Madre artist, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray O. Caukin of Pasadena. Mr. Caukin is a former Sierra Madre postmaster.

Mr. Dewey cast his first vote in 1896 for William Jennings Bryan. Mrs. Caukin first voted in 1912, a year after California enfranchised women, and her husband cast his first vote for Alton B. Parker, Democratic presidential candidate in 1904.

Winner of the contest will be named "Mr. (or Mrs.) Foothills Democrat" and will be official host, or hostess, of the "Foothills Democratic Jamboree" to be presented Oct. 12 by the Crescenta Valley Democratic Club in honor of State Sen. Richard Richards, Democratic nominee for U.S. senator.

School Plans Paper Drive

Ascension Parish School will conduct a paper drive Saturday. Anyone with papers to donate can call ELgin 5-1530 before Saturday.

Altadenans Seek Talent For Benefit

A call for help to Sierra Madre residents, among others, was sent out this week by Altadenans interested in furthering the work of their Mountain Rescue Squad.

Sierra Madreans with any talents which might be put to use in a big Foothill area variety benefit show have been asked to appear today, tomorrow or Saturday at 872 E. Mariposa in Altadena. Those accepted will appear on the same bill with top stage and TV performers.

All benefits from the show, to be held early in November, will go to the Altadena Mountain Rescue Squad.

Council Wants to Hear What Public Thinks

The City Council Tuesday night put off action on a fence-clearing code which would affect up to 85 Sierra Madre corners and sought an expression of public opinion on the far-reaching measure.

The Council at its meeting also rejected an appeal from a Planning Commission ruling denying a petition for a service station at the corner of Michillinda and Sierra Madre Blvd. and voted to go ahead with plans for Cypress Court street improvement.

The proposed ordinance to clear corners would require that no obstruction more than 3½ feet high be maintained within a triangular area, the two sides of which would be 15 feet long on the two street sides extending back from the private property line. Exceptions would be permanent structures such as buildings, and young saplings, utility poles and trees trimmed up 6 feet from the ground.

THE ORDINANCE would place enforcement in the hands of the city administrator, who within 30 days after receiving notice of a violation would be required to advise the chief of police whether removal of the obstruction is necessary.

If he should decide it is, the corner would be posted. The owner then would have 10 days in which to appeal to the City Council. If he should lose his appeal, the obstruction would have to be removed within 20 days, after which time the city could move in and charge the owner for its removal.

The Council will take up the ordinance again at its Oct. 9 meeting.

BEFORE REJECTING the service station appeal, the Council heard arguments from E. J. Till of Stephen W. Cunningham & Associates, Inc., representing Raymond D. Andrews, owner of the corner at Michillinda and Sierra Madre Blvd., and from Gordon Wright, attorney for several surrounding property owners, including R. F. Jones of 685 Mariposa and Henry Wade of 673 Mariposa.

Mr. Till urged reversal of the Planning Commission's Aug. 9 decision, while Mr. Wright, Mr. Jones and Mr. Wade spoke for the decision.

The arguments in general followed the same lines as those pursued in the Planning Commission hearings, which have been outlined in detail in previous issues of The News.

THE VOTE on the Cypress Court street improvement followed a demonstration of support from almost all of the residents attending the meeting.

Another hearing still must be held on the distribution of assessments on residents of the area, but the vote Tuesday night approved the plan for improvements and ordered that steps be taken to implement it.

The formation of an assessment district in the area was undertaken to provide for street grading, paving and placing of curbs and gutters where necessary to meet minimum standards. Street widths in the area will be a uniform 20 feet.

IN OTHER ACTIONS the Council:

1. Authorized the purchase of up to 100 street signs. According to City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, these will be placed for the most part on Michillinda, Grand View, Sierra Madre Blvd., Orange Grove, Baldwin, Mountain Trail, Lima, Sturtevant and Woodland. Others will be spotted at confusing intersections. Placement of the new signs, together with those already standing, will cover almost half of all the intersections in town and most of the main streets, Mr. Bevington said.

2. After a comment by Councilman Harold Roberts, chairman of the Water Committee, the Council ordered a notice placed on next month's water bills urging residents to avoid wasting water. Mr. Roberts said he had noticed considerable and steady drainage of water down street gutters. This is believed caused primarily by improper watering of lawns. Watering more often and for shorter lengths of time will put the water into the ground, where it will do some good, and out of the gutters, it was pointed out. The Council reminded residents that water wastage is punishable by a fine up to $500 and up to six months in jail.

The City Council Tuesday night received for the city's trophy walls a special award given to the Sierra Madre Community Concert Band after its performance Saturday night at the Los Angeles County Fair.

Singled out also for commendation by the Council were members of the Recreation Commission, which Mayor Charles H. James said "deserve a great deal of credit for bringing the band into being."

Rescue Squad Leads With 2 Weeks Left

With only two weeks remaining in the Buy-at-Home Campaign, the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew is holding its lead by a margin of more than 3 million votes over its nearest rival, St. Rita's Church.

Local Woman Sets Up Scholarship at USC

A foundation set up by a Sierra Madre woman this week was established in the USC School of Medicine to give scholarships each year to two men who have served as Navy hospital corpsmen and want to become Navy doctors.

Mrs. May R. Wright of 471 N. Sunnyside set up the foundation in memory of her late husband, Lieut. Comm. Robert E. Wright, "in grateful appreciation of the marvelous care given him by the United States Navy Medical Corps during his long illness and eventual death in the U.S. Naval Hospital at San Diego." Comm. Wright died Aug. 6, 1954.

A $4,000 grant established the foundation, to be called the Robert E. and May R. Wright Foundation, and Mrs. Wright said she planned eventually to increase the scholarship fund to $100,000.

Mrs. Wright, long active in Sierra Madre affairs, is a member of the Planning Commission here.

Applicants for the scholarships must have served as hospital corpsmen, second class, received an honorable discharge from the Navy, and be qualified in all respects to serve as officers in the Navy medical corps.

If no qualified hospital corpsmen apply for three years, scholarships will then be open to men who have served in any branch of the Navy or who have been graduated from Naval ROTC programs. Next in line for the grants will be descendants of Navy medical officers.

All applicants must agree to accept a commission as a Navy medical officer and serve three years on active duty after completion of medical school and internship, if requested by the Navy. Applicants must be in the top 25 per cent of those admitted to the SC medical school.

Nursery School Plans Xmas Shoppers' Night

The annual Christmas Shoppers' Night of the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School will be held Nov. 30 from 2 to 10 p.m. at the Woman's Club.

The Nursery School Executive Board at its meeting recently was brought up to date on plans by Mrs. Joan Tyree, Ways & Means chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shafer are working on a list of children's books by age groups which Vroman's book store will supply the school for sale in one of the booths.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McAdam will handle Christmas cards and wrapping paper. Other booths will have jewelry by a well known Glendale designer, records, and toys from Shugert's of Arcadia, within a price range of $.50 to $5.00.

Betty Vensel and her committee will prepare and serve a hot cheese sandwich, jello salad, beans, milk or coffee, and ice cream from 5 p.m. until 8. The price is $1.00 for adults and $.75 for children.

Highlight of the evening will be the drawing of the winning raffle ticket. This year there will be two prizes: One an overnight trip to Las Vegas for two, and the other a day at Disneyland for a family of five, including 10 rides each and dinner on the grounds.

Article Published By Local Artist

Marvin Weese, Sierra Madre artist, is the author of "The Golden Autumn," an article appearing in the October issue of Arizona Highways magazine. This is the fourth such article Mr. Weese has written for the magazine.

Mr. Weese, noted for his wood and linoleum block reproductions in color, lives at 558 Canon Road.

He has been in charge of hanging the public art exhibits in City Hall for years, and pictures by him and by his wife, Myrtle, are hanging in the present exhibit there.

Concert Series Begun By Noted Violinist

Foothill Community Concert Association's 10th anniversary season will open Saturday evening in the Monrovia-Duarte High School Auditorium with the presentation of Camilla Wicks, noted violinist.

A native Californian, Miss Wicks began her musical studies with her violinist father and her pianist mother when she was only 3½, and made her first appearance with orchestra at the age of 8 in Los Angeles.

At 10, she moved to New York to continue her training with Louis Persinger and to study as a fellowship student at the Juilliard School of Music. At 13 she made a successful recital debut in New York's Town Hall, and at 17 made her New York debut at Carnegie Hall, playing with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony under Artur Rodzinski.

During these years she also appeared with such orchestras as those of the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles, Chicago and San Francisco.

Miss Wicks began her extensive concertizing in Europe. She played a total of 88 successful concerts in 12 countries on her first tour, and visited with the noted Finnish composer, Jan Sibelius, after he heard her performance of his violin concerto.

In her appearance Saturday night, Miss Wicks will play the famous "Duke of Cambridge" Stradivarius, dated 1725. Doors to the Monrovia-Duarte auditorium will open at 7:30, and the concert is scheduled to begin at 8:15.

Our Sub-Standard Schools

Some harsh words have been tossed at the School Board recently over plans for enlarging the school playground.

Board members have been accused, with little or no basis in fact, of subterfuge, under-handed maneuvering and of straying from the truth, among other things.

Surprisingly, not a word of public criticism has been voiced over what seems to me a far more important matter than the question of what to do with the school playground.

The fact is that sixth graders here—the last year they attend school in Sierra Madre—came out below the national average in achievement tests. In only one of six specific categories—that of reading vocabulary—were our sixth graders prepared adequately to compete with children in other schools.

This is especially disturbing because children in Sierra Madre schools should, if anything, be above the national average in achievement. For the national average, after all, is compiled after children in many schools covering all economic and sociological levels are tested.

There are no slums in Sierra Madre, little juvenile delinquency and the average mentality of our children compared favorably with surrounding towns. Mental maturity tests, in fact, show Sierra Madre students at the upper part of the normal range.

This means they are capable of above-average work.

The inescapable conclusion arises that Sierra Madre schools fall short of the very purpose for which they exist—to educate.

Several factors undoubtedly are responsible for the poor showing of children in the sixth grade here. But the School Board and superintendent of schools must assume a large part of the responsibility. For they administer the school program, select the teachers and approve the courses of study.

Parents, to a lesser degree, are also responsible when they become too busy to insist that their children do the best work they are capable of.

A lack of adequate funds—a disgraceful situation in itself—undoubtedly hindered school administrators. But it still takes more than money to run a good school and it's still the School Board, directed and advised by the superintendent of schools, that must set the pace.

It's encouraging to note that the Board is not going to permit this deplorable lack of achievement to pass unnoticed. Members are planning to meet with experts in education to consider proper steps to take.

More homework, among other steps, already has been taken as a method of raising standards. In addition, it would seem wise to examine the whole educational structure. Good education doesn't come easily. I suspect that the Sierra Madre School, and many others, do not require or insist upon sufficiently high standards, either in the classroom or in class work performed at home.

What final program is evolved to place our schools on an ABOVE STANDARD level remains to be seen. Let's hope our school authorities are up to the task.—H.W.E.

Playground Sparks Battle

The School Board was the target two weeks ago of a bitter attack before the Planning Commission. It was hinted that members of the board were liars, and one of the commissioners herself charged that the board was guilty of "subterfuge" and "underhanded" methods.

The attack was brought on by the board's proposal to square off the presently ridiculous playground at Sierra Madre School.

Involved in the petition was a triangular piece of land whose use would make possible the laying out of a ball diamond or more suitable size and shape.

After the name-calling session two weeks ago, the board consulted the county counsel, was told that it need not obtain the Planning Commission's consent in this matter, and voted at its meeting Monday night to withdraw its petition before that body and proceed with plans for the playground.

It seems to me the board was unnecessarily manhandled before the Planning Commission. It can be granted that it did not go about its plans in a manner calculated to smooth the path for the playground, that it could have kept the people informed who were most concerned, and that generally it compounded confusion instead of dispelling it.

But this is no justification for vitriolic attacks on the personal integrity of the board members, who do their best to perform a public service without pay. I do not mean that they are above criticism—far from it—but that the criticism should be kept on a reasonable plane.

As for the playground itself, it's a pitiful enough piece of land—sun-baked, rock-hard, without a shred of grass and greenery—and the board's proposition seems little to ask. The property belongs to the school, and the inclusion of the triangular plot appears to be the only logical use for it.

But the petition ran into a barrage of opposition. Some of the arguments were valid. Adjoining property owners should receive assurance that their lands will not suffer through improper drainage and land slippage as a result of the new land use. And their concern over the possibility of night games also is understandable, and is a matter to be worked out between themselves, the city and the school board.

On the other hand, a persisting demand voiced vehemently throughout the Planning Commission meeting was that the extended playground bar all children over the age of 12. Why? Because other children are not to be trusted near residential districts. The horrors of "teen-age vandalism" were cited.

Here we have, in an age where enlightened approaches to the vandalism problem stress the provision of healthy outlets for youthful energies, a proposal that we ban our public school playground to the very youngsters who need it most, that we brand as "undesirable" all boys over the age of 12.

No one can fail to share the concern of those, with the product of years of effort tied up in their property, who seek to protect the value of that property. But, as in all things, it is not too much to ask that they be reasonable.

There are human values, too. What kind of community is that in which everyone loves youngsters except when they're around? Where they are exiled from public playgrounds because they can't be trusted within throwing distance of residential properties?

What would be the next step?—W.F.T.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Sometimes I feel sorry for husbands, but I don't believe sympathy should interfere with extravagance!"

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

A report last week placed farm and home mortgage indebtedness at approximately 100 billion dollars and consumer goods indebtedness at 37 billion dollars.

Some persons think that is a good sign and if our economy keeps on expanding we will all be able to buy ourselves rich pretty soon. But how much more, if any, does our 400-billion-dollar economy of today buy us than did our 200-billion-dollar economy 20 years ago?

Other day, on the radio, I heard some prices of 1936 recalled. A brand new latest model of a certain motor car then cost approximately one-third what a new latest model of the same car would cost today, though the latter would have built-in radio, a heater and push button doors.

Even without these extras it would cost more than twice as much. I think a great part of our 400-billion economy is the result of inflated prices and unnecessary gadgets.

* * *

BEING OF SCOTCH descent, reckless indebtedness always alarms me. I think it dangerously demoralizing to men and nations.

I've been reading a biography of Julius Caesar and learned that in his time one political party grew alarmingly strong on a platform calling for the wiping out of all debt. Where would all the American business houses which urge us to buy on time payments be if such a movement should gain momentum here? And if enough people get overloaded to the desperation point that is a distinct possibility.

When people get overloaded to the desperation point anything can happen, and millions of our young people are mighty close to that point now. Indeed, that is one of the things which may have a far greater influence on this fall's election than any of us realize.

It would be pretty hard for any hard-pressed young couple today to compare living costs, as shown by the newspaper advertisements of 10 or 11 years ago, with those of today, without feelnig that a lot of us are being stuck, not by our local merchants but by the manufacturers and wholesalers.

If you doubt that, just go to any library or newspaper office where back files are available and see how the comparison affects you.

And official forecasts are that nearly everything, from peanuts to motor cars, will cost more next year.

ARTICLE IN THIS week's Newsweek says political figures now find church membership imperative. Eisenhower, the article says, joined the Presbyterian Church in 1952 and Stevenson has gone him one better by joining the Presbyterians lately, without giving up his lifelong membership in the Unitarian Church.

Though the Unitarian Church is a long-established Christian sect — to which Ralph Waldo Emerson belonged, if I remember correctly—its members, like the Quakers, may also belong to other sects.

I guess when a man gets into politics he needs all the religion he can get, but it's interesting to note how much more eager to get it they are after the become candidates.

Around Washington

By EDGAR W. HIESTAND
Rep., 21st District

No administration in the nation's history has done more for the man who earns the pay check than President Eisenhower's administration. It's time to set the record straight.

Yet certain leaders of the AFL-CIO continue to demand that the wage earner vote against the highest wages in history; that the workingman disregard the fact that 4.4 million new jobs have been created in four years; that the union members turn thumbs down on the lowest record of work stoppages due to strikes, and that the housewife veto the stabiliaztion of the cost of living.

Here are some additional facts:

Under the Republican administration Social Security benefits have been extended to 10 million additional workers, and benefits have been liberalized for an additional 6.5 million. Nine out of 10 workers and their families are now protected against loss of income due to old age or death.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE has been extended by federal law to 4 million additional workers to bring coverage to a total fo 41 million. Following urging by President Eisenhower and Labor Secretary Mitchell, maximum weekly benefits have been increased in 32 states.

The minimum wage was raised to $1 effective March 1, 1956, directly increasing the pay envelope of more than 2 million workers and indirectly benefiting millions more by raising the general wage level.

The vocational rehabilitation program has been liberalized and expanded to bentfit additional hundreds of thousands of handicapped workers.

Railroad retirement benefits were increased and tax provisions changed to aid retired people.

The principle of the 8-hour day, the original Bureau of Labor and later the Department of Labor, a federal law guaranteeing the right to join unions and bargain collectively, all came about under Republicans.

In 1945 the Truman administration demanded a revolutionary bill to conscript labor. Unions vigorously opposed it because they believed the bill would violate the rights of free working men. Republican members of Congress led the fight to defeat it.

AGAIN IN 1946, another drastic threat was made to the freedom of working men. Truman demanded that Congress enact what would have been the worst strike-breaking law in history — a law giving Truman the power to draft strikers into the Army and force them to work at the point of a bayonet.

Unions naturally fought this bill, but it sped through the House, where Democrats had overwhelming control. Fortunately for labor unions and for every working man and woman in the country, every Republican senator voted against the bill and killed it!

Insurance Quiz By Phil Calhoun

Q. Do teachers get their auto and life insurance cheaper thru CTA?

A. CTA does obtain merchandise for the teachers at discount houses and through deals with some local agents. CTA implies the teachers are getting preferred rates. I have seen many of these so-called low cost policies which were no cheaper than any sales clerk could buy from a broker. The hospital policy offered a healthy retired teacher by the teachers association actually costs 20% more than what could be obtained from a local broker direct. The auto policy is limited in comparison with many policies which give full coverage at the same price. CTA offers no insurance bargains which a teacher or non-teacher cannot obtain through a good broker.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

Mr. Shippey has been asking us, in the columns of the Sierra Madre News, what we think.

Now, I should say at the outset that I do not intend to use toward my friend, Mr. Shippey, the kind of intemperate language we have heard Kefauver fling at Stevenson, and vice versa. I hope to practice some of Mr. Shippey's own good humored restraint while I answer his question insofar as it applies to me.

"A true biography we trace,
Our method's honest, plain and simple;
Let others paint the noble face—
We concentrate upon the pimple."

So characterized Arthur Guiterman the "debunking" school of biography some two or three decades ago—about the time, in fact, that Mr. Shippey's friend, Rupert Hughes, wrote his "Washington."

What did I think when I read our esteemed fellow-townsman's estimate of Mr. Eisenhower's place in the history books of the future, in which he damned the President with faint praise? I thought of Guiterman's verse.

We come now to the question of the Gallup poll. Mr. Shippey cites one instance, which came to him by hearsay. What do I think? I think Mr. Shippey should have dug up "Our Mr. White" or Gallup himself, before he generalized on the basis of one item of hearsay.

But this is parenthetical, as I am not in these columns to champion Mr. Gallup. It is to make answer to the implication that anyone who is fortunate enough to be able to live off his investments ipso facto lacks the common touch. Much depends on his life experience. I would say, for example, that Mr. Eisenhower, who knew privation in boyhood, and now is said to have an income from investments provided by the profits from his book, would have the common touch in a high degree.

Whereas Franklin Roosevelt, Stevenson, Harriman and Kennedy, all reared in wealth, and even Kefauver, whose stock in trade is a log-cabin humility, which he got from being born on a 600-acre estate, would be lacking in personal knowledge of human want.

What do I think? I think that we have suffered too long from silver spoon Democrats posing as common men. Too long for the good of a democracy have we had in public life holding high office the sons of wealth, who, becoming bored with polo and, as Mr. Shippey says, clipping coupons, turn to politics as a refreshing plaything, like gardening or collecting.

I doubt that pastime presidents, pastime candidates for president and vice president, pastime senators and governors can be sincere in claiming a fellow feeling for the ordinary fellow who has to gain his start in life by his own efforts.

Now about Mr. Shippey's appraisal of Ike as an amateur politician it all depends on what our columnist, himself, thinks. If Mr. Shippey means "politician" in the Truman sense — one with front of brass and feet of Pendergast clay — I say "thank God for amateurs."

But if he means to use the word as Plato did, then I think Mr. Eisenhower is the greatest political figure in the world today, and the greatest president since Lincoln.

C. R. GILDART.

The members, associates and their guests will gather in appropriate costume at 40 N. First Avenue, Arcadia, at 6:30 p.m., where buses will be waiting to transport the "hayseeds" to the "circus."

The hall will be decorated with posters of pink elephants, fat ladies, snake charmers and strong men. Balloons and streamers will deck the top of the "tent."

College Alumnae Invited To Join AAUW Branch

Mrs. Edwin Schryver, first vice-president and membership chairman of the Arcadia Branch, American Association of University Women, has issued an invitation to all alumnae of AAUW-approved colleges and universities to contact her or one of her committee regarding membership in the group.

The Arcadia Branch includes women residing in Temple City, Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch, Duarte and Monrovia, as well as Arcadia, and holds monthly meetings on the second Monday evening of each month at the Arcadia High School Little Theater.

Study section meetings are held monthly, covering phases of the arts, legislation and status of women, books and plays, and contemporary affairs, which embraces education, social studies and international affairs.

There is an active junior group under the chairmanship of Mrs. John C. Murphy. Mrs. Richard Winslow, social chairman, is planning a bridge marathon for interested members.

"The Arcadia Branch is one of 100 branches in the State of California," stated Mrs. Schryver, "and we are proud of its growth to approximately 200 members in the six short years since its inception. We feel this speaks well for the interest of local alumnae in continuing their college associations and participating in the AAUW program of support of civic and social improvements, better education and enlightened community activity."

Mrs. Schryver pointed out that membership is limited to graduates of institutions approved by the association, and that this policy has been adopted as a means of maintaining high standards of education.

Those in the area interested in the group may call Mrs. Schryver at ELliot 8-0730 or Mrs. Howard Cheverton at DOuglas 6-1017.

Women's Fellowship Meets Tuesday at Congregational

The Women's Fellowship of Congregational Church will hold its first fall meeting Oct. 2 at 11 a.m. in the church sanctuary.

A luncheon will be served at noon in the primary room, followed by a business meeting.

After Devotions, to be led by Mrs. George Morgridge, a report on the recent Interdenominational Conference at Asilimar, Calif., will be given by Mrs. Tom Solury, Mrs. Bert Embree, Mrs. Helen Haas, Mrs. Morgridge, Mrs. Herbert Seifert and Mrs. Elmer Tracy, who attended the conference.

The annual salad luncheon is sponsored by the Conserso group. Mrs. Percy Kortkamp is chairman and Mrs. Robert Ingram and Mrs. Kenneth Carlson are co-chairmen.

Five Sierra Madreans attended the meeting last Tuesday of the Congregational Women's Fellowship of Southern California and the Southwest in Long Beach.

Attending were Mrs. Siefert, Mrs. George Lindsay, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Glen Appleby and Mrs. Helen Haas.

Trinity Men's Club Holds First Meeting

The Trinity Men's Club had its first meeting of the fall last evening. The Rev. John C. Walker, new Minister of Christian Education at Trinity Presbyterian Church, gave a talk on Christian life in college today.

This was followed by a film of last year's USC-Notre Dame football game.

Lou Jennings, program chairman, has announced that again this year the square dance will be held Nov. 2 at Westminster Church on North Lake Ave. Tickets will be $1 per couple.

Missionary Meeting Set For Oct. 2

The first meeting of Bethany Missionary Society following the summer vacation will be held Tuesday, Oct. 2 in Fellowship Hall, 93 N. Baldwin.

The morning session will begin at 10:45. The speaker, Chuck Corwin, just returned from the mission field of central Japan and is now attending classes at Fuller Theological Seminary. He was an evangelist for the Central Japan Pioneer Mission, his station the city of Isesaki. He will show a film made in that area.

Mr. Harry Owens, the deputtion secretary for the Southwest, representing the China Inland Mission, will speak in the afternoon following a brief business session beginning at 1:15 p.m. Mr. Owens recently returned from a six-month trip around the world for the China Inland Mission. He will speak on Malaya and Communism and will show pictures.

You are urged to attend and hear these two dynamic speakers. A nursery is provided. Please bring your lunch. Coffee and tea will be served. This request is made because of the building program which makes impossible the customary luncheon at tables.

News of the Churches

WORKING FOR THE CHURCH is no novelty for these members of the Women's Society for Christian Service, seen here putting finishing touches on some of the items to be sold at their Fall Fiesta on Oct. 5, on the grounds of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church. From left are Mrs. William Heller, Fiesta chairman; Mrs. C. Keith Barnes, Mrs. Ove Jensen, president of WSCS, and Mrs. John McBride. Only a year ago it seemed as if efforts to establish a new Methodist Church in the area were doomed. Then a new minister was appointed, the Rev. Chilton C. McPheeters, Ph.D. Under his leadership a dramatic upswing took place, and today a new sanctuary is being completed which should be ready for occupancy on Oct. 14. The new church and the many things which are needed for it have added inspiration to this year's Fiesta. Open from 1 to 10 p.m. on Oct. 5, featured highlights of the Fiesta will include: Gift Shop with everything from glamour items to miscellaneous gifts, Holiday Decorations, Toy Shop, Flower Shop, Sweet Shop and Food to Go, Attic Treasures, Surprise Packages, games of many kinds, and a featured auction at 8 o'clock. Those interested in contributing items or helping in any way are asked to contact Mrs. Heller at ELgin 5-2964.

Church Group To Offer Class In 'Slimnastics'

A "Slimnastics" class sponsored by the Phoebes of Congregational Church will be held in the church gym beginning Oct. 4 at 10 a.m.

The series of 10 classes will be open to all women in the community. There will be a nursery for preschool children. Further information may be obtained at ELgin 5-7647 or ELgin 5-6409. Proceeds from donations will be used to redecorate the church.

SUNDAY SERMON

"Everyone Can Be Successful" will be the subject of the Sunday sermon, Sept. 30 at 11 a.m., by Dr. Ethel Barnhart at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

Minister Joins Bethany Staff

Dick Browning, chairman of the board of elders and deacons, has announced that Bethany Church has appointed Rev. Hugh Bell Jr. as Minister of Visitation and assistant to the pastor, Dr. Robert N. Schaper.

Rev. Mr. Bell is a graduate of Columbia Bible College and has been a pastor for some time in South Carolina. He is also on the staff of Mission Aides, an organization with headquarters in the new office building and plant on East Montecito.

The man who comes out on top is the man who is willing to start at the bottom.

Jewish Center Services Mark Simchath Torah

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel is conducting concluding services for this month of holidays at the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, commencing with services for Shemini Atsereth last night.

The services continue this morning, with services at 9 a.m. and Yizkor services, which are special memorial prayers, at 10 a.m.

Simchath Torah will begin with services this evening at 7 p.m. with special services for the children at this time. Friday morning services will commence at 9 a.m.

Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist Rabbi Steckel and will chant the prayers and hymns.

Shemini Atsereth is the additional holiday to finish popular rejoicing of the Succoth festival, with prayers for bounty in the New Year and a consecration to God.

Simchath Torah is the "Rejoicing of the Law." It is at this time the annual cycle of weekly reading of portions of the Torah or Holy Scroll is concluded.

Friday evening services will be held at 8:30. Hosts for the Oneg Shabbath, which follows the services, will be Dr. and Mrs. Ruben Friedman of Monrovia.

Special Rally Day Program Planned by Bethany Church

Bob Kindred, superintendent of the Bethany Sunday School, has announced that next Sunday will bring to the church the annual occasion of graduation of its scholars and the presentation of the Rally Day program.

The largest attendance that Bethany Sunday School has ever had is expected as the entire school meets for the special program in the Sierra Madre School Auditorium.

In addition to the songs and recitation by the various departments, an unusual feature will be presented. Color films have been taken in each of the Sunday School departments as it actually functions. Combined with a record narration, this will present a complete picture of the work of the Sunday School department.

The Rally Day program begins at 9:30 and the public is invited.

Methodists Mark 'Spirit of Promotion'

Promotion Day will be observed in the Sunday School of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church this Sunday at 9:30.

The theme for the occasion will be "The Spirit of Promotion," with every department represented in some special way.

Bible awards will be made to the following children: Judy Nordyke, Dan Daley, Tom Embree, Colleen Myers, Merle McPheeters, Isabelle Steel, Tommy Cothran, John Bohart, Carol Langstaff, and Cheryl Fletcher.

Following the program, refreshments will be served. All parents and adults are invited.

At the 11 o'clock worship hour, Dr. Chilton McPheeters will speak on the subject: "The Hope of Tomorrow." Since the coming week will be observed in most Protestant churches as "Christian Education Week," the message will relate itself to the spirit and purposes of such an observance.

Visitors to the church will find a friendly welcome with Coffee Hours both before and after the worship service affording an opportunity to get better acquainted.

It takes a lot of education and experience before a man really begins to realize how little he actually knows.

Residents Take Part In Rally

Eighteen choir members of Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Dr., will appear in the Hollywood Bowl Sunday afternoon at 3, when the Southern California District of the Lutheran Church — Missouri conducts a Lutheran Hour Rally there.

Also participating in the 1,000 voice Adult Choir will be Warren Zelt, Director of the local group, of 439 W. Orange Grove, Sierra Madre.

Speaker at the rally will be Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, who will begin his second year as the Lutheran Hour speaker. The Hour, heard in 65 nations, will start its 24th season of broadcasting on the day of the rally.

Two other musical groups will participate in the rally service, a Children's Chorus of 400 voices, and the Lutheran Laymen's League Male Chorus. Singing in the latter group will be Edward Plischke, 225 S. Sunnyside Ave., Sierra Madre.

Transportation for members and friends of Faith Lutheran Church has been arranged by C. H. Gerke, 602 Mariposa St. The chartered bus will leave Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, 1118 N. Allen, in Pasadena, at 1:15 Sunday afternoon.

The public is invited to this service, according to Rev. A. Hesse, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church. The local clergyman was a college mate of Dr. Hoffmann both at Concordia College in St. Paul, Minn., and at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis.

LESSON SERMON

"God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind" asserts the Apostle Paul to Timothy in a reference which is the Golden Text of Sunday's Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" in First Church of Christ, Scientist. (II Tim. 1:7)

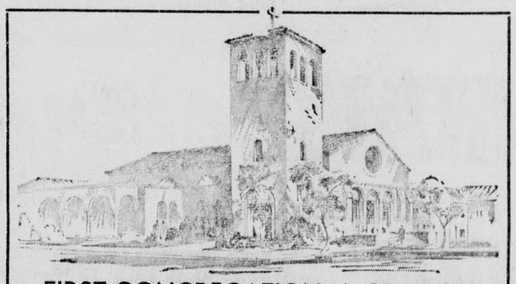

There's more to religion than getting people into churches.

THERE'S MORE: your kitchen is far cooler. And cleaner. Pots and pans stay mirror-bright. Kitchen walls look fresh much longer.
AFTER THE WARRANTY on your range expires, Edison services it free — charges only for parts, if needed.
IF YOU'RE STILL COOKING the old way, it's simply because you haven't seen the new '56 electric ranges at your appliance dealer's. Why not visit him this week and see how easy modern cooking can be?

M. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, 55 West Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, California, as the time and place for holding a public hearing on the application for variance to enlarge an existing porch to 14x14 feet, which will encroach into the minimum five foot side yard required by Ord. Dog Owners—Attention

If your dog does not have a current license, good until July, 1957, obtain one at the Sierra Madre Police Dept. before October 1, 1956, and save the $2.00 penalty which becomes effective on that date. Attention is called to the recent ordinance requiring vaccination of all dogs against rabies. A veterinarian's certificate must be shown to obtain a license.

SIERRA MADRE POLICE DEPT.

FIRE FLAMES

Since the firemen on duty have been given police powers to cite violators for following fire trucks too closely, entering the block where a fire may be and other wrong doings, there has been a noticeable difference in the obstructionists who once insisted on getting on the inside.

Despite this, a number of curious drivers persist in getting in the way. Firemen are not anxious to become police officers, yet they do not enjoy having to go around about or shove their way through to the scene of the fire.

We urgently plead with people to stay away from wherever the fire may be. Give us a little room. Residents must realize that there are many firemen who must leave home in their cars and the nearer they can get to the scene, the sooner they are able to get to work. It is with regret that citations are issued, but it must be done.

Fire Department responsibilities are increasing and the men fully realize this. We are obligated to protect the community from fire and to ask residents to aid us by staying away would appear to be little to ask. Our streets should be cleared when the fire horn sounds. At least, drive to the right and stay there until you are certain the trucks are not coming your way. PLEASE.

* * *

OUR GOOD fortune continues. The city has now grown to where there is great danger of a short delay bringing a serious result, so think of the danger when at home. An accummulation of inflammable materials about the premises may mean the difference between a fire and an uncontrollable one. Every week should be clean-up week. Why wait for spring, summer, fall or winter. There always is danger.

As soon as a fellow is down his enemies quit kicking him and his friends begin.

Public money, like ice, seems to shrink faster each time is passes through different hands.

Parties Held Before, After Terrace Dance

By Toni Maurin

It is amazing how much fun you can have and how helpful people are when you are searching for information. The other day I was wondering when we went back on Standard Time, but I was at loss as to where to call. I called he Telephone Company, and inasmuch as it was not information pertaining to their work, they were unable to give me the information, but suggested calling the newspaper.

I called one of the daily papers, and they assured me that when the time came I would hear it on the radio and the papers would be writing about it, but offhand they weren't sure. They suggested calling the Public Library, and sure enough, the reference department knew the exact date and the hour.

It is 2 a.m. Sept. 30. Now I know when I can get my children in at a decent hour and start having meals on time again. There is always a reason!

Hastings Teen Times

By Pat Smith
ELgin 5-1903

This year is going to be a great one for Wilson. We have a great school with great spirit. But how could we miss with fine Pom Pom girls like Jodi Raymond, June Lindman, Susan Jordan, Doris Cottam, Gail Henry, Pam Marshal, Cara Reynolds, Janice Adler, Charlene Person, Diane Ranta, Larraine Berger, Josie Hicks, Carolyn Schultz, Carolyn Macintosh and Karen Thompson? There also will be fine cheer leaders whose names will appear next week.

Pom Pom girls and cheer leaders are important to school spirit, but we, the students, count more than anyone. So when we're in the stands let's look alive and sound alive and really stand behind OUR team and school.

* * *

JODI RAYMOND had a wonderful and unusual summer vacation. She and her grandparents sailed June 20 for Europe. They visited almost every country. Jodi liked Italy best and five weeks were spent there. They spent a week and a half in France. She sailed home Aug. 28 on the Queen Elizabeth.

THE MAIN attraction lately seems to be the LA County Fair. We're in school for less than two weeks and everyone is getting excused at 1 o'clock for the fair. Classrooms were much smaller than usual. But then almost everyone would rather be at the fair than at school, I think.

Here we go with another nine months of school activities such as football, basketball and all other sports, along with the assemblies, elections, and so forth. At Marshall our five football coaches are Mr. Pappas, Mr. Busik, Mr. Guier, Mr. Blake and Mr. Davis. They have been very busy signing up all the boys and getting their insurance records straight

* * *

MARSHALL HAS welcomed several new seventh-graders from out our way. Among them are Butch McBride, Hardy Phillip, Beryt Fricke, Gail Gardner and Leslie Lockard. "These kids have four hard years of work ahead of them," says the voice of experience.

* * *

BILL RITTENHOUSE, who is one of our outstanding students at Marshall, lost a week of school because of the flu. We all missed him and are glad to see him slaving away again.

* * *

CRAIG LOCKARD and family set off last weekend for San Clemente State Park. Craig said everyone had a wonderful time fishing and swimming in the ocean.

* * *

SMOKEY BUSH, graduate of Wilson Junior High last year, just got his heart's desire—a late 1940 green Ford convertible, so his sister, Joann, tells. His popularity has jumped to a new high, and every time he leaves for Pasadena High School his new car is loaded. Joann also tells me that the whole family spent their vacation at Lake Tahoe.

* * *

AND NOW I leave you with an old proverb for all boys with new 1940 cars, or any model for that matter: "It is better to be careful a thousand times than killed once." Bye now.

Fall Styles To Be Shown At Fashion Tea

What the well-dressed young California matron will wear from dawn through dinner dancing will be shown at the Fall Fashion tea to be sponsored by the Hastings Ranch Nursery School at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Phillipson, 1485 Old House Road.

Seating will be arranged in the pool area at the Phillipson home, so that all may have seats of vantage for the presentation by Cheron's of San Marino.

Among designers whose models will be featured are Don Loper, Peggy Hunt, Athena-Michel, Mr. Sig and DeMichael. Commentary will be by Mrs. Clair Haynes.

Mrs. David Zinsmeyer, school ways and means chairman, is general chairman of the event, with Mrs. William Taylor serving as ticket chairman.

Also working in various capacities, with refreshments, the program or tickets, are Mrs. Clyde Seitz, Mrs. Virginia Tannehill, Mrs. James E. Dunlap, Mrs. Max Marco, Mrs. Gordon Newhouse, Mrs. L. W. Benson and Mrs. Jack Oberlies.

The school, which annually sponsors several fund-raising events to help defray operating expenses of their cooperative enterprise, is holding the fashion tea this fall instead of a dance which they have held for the past several years.

Three Boys To Become Life Scouts

Climaxing a summer of scouting activity Troop 377, sponsored by Eugene Field PTA, will receive more merit badges and advancements in rank in one court of honor than ever before in the troop's history. The awards will be made at the Mt. Wilson District Court of Honor at the Sierra Madre Elementary School, 141 W. Highland, at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Families and friends are invited.

Three boys—Don Cotten, David Martin and Cyrus Underwood—will attain the rank of Life Scout, next to the highest award in scouting.

Martin Smith, Steve Saurenman and Jack Gregory will advance to First Class. Don Beattie and Wally Kelly will advance to Second Class. John Griffith, John Sorenson and Hugh Saurenman will receive their Tenderfoot badges.

Merit badges will go to Jim Bohman, Don Cotten, Jack Gregory, Jack McConaghy, David Martin, Steve Saurenman, Roger Shanks, Martin Smith, Forest Switzer and Cyrus Underwood.

G. F. Olson Receives Promotion

Friends and neighbors were happy to hear Gilbert F. Olson, 945 Pepperhill, had been named manager of the Pasadena office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Bean recently by Winthrop H. Smith, managing partner of the nationwide brokerage and underwriting firm.

"Gib," as he is better known in the Ranch, was born in Salem, S.D., and has been a resident of Pasadena for the past 18 years.

He attended the University of Southern California where he majored in business administration. During World War II he served overseas both as an enlisted man and officer in the U.S. Navy.

He has been associated with the Pasadena firm since 1947.

Sports in Haste . . .

Visitor Here Holds Forth On Joys of Water Skiing

(Note: My brother-in-law from North Carolina is spending a little time in Pasadena to see how the natives live in the land of eternal sunshine. From the stories he tells activity in North Carolina seems to be somewhat limited in many ways but the area does lend itself to a most fascinating sport with which he occupies himself at every opportunity. Being more of the armchair sports enthusiast myself, I've encountered some difficulty in understanding the fine points of this activity and have prevailed upon him to pass it along in his own way—Charles Ayres.)

By Robert Karnosh

It is quite difficult to describe the thrill and elation one gets as he or she skims along the surface of the water with no real visible support except a small board attached to one's foot and a rope grasped tightly with both hands. The sport that I am referring to, of course, is water skiing.

Many people have a defeatist attitude and think that it is much more difficult than it really is. The thing to do is to arm yourself with self-confidence and head for the nearest lake or cove.

After contracting for the essentials (boat and skis) or imposing on a good-natured friend, you are about to venture into one of the most self-satisfying and thrilling experiences of this modern day.

You submerge yourself into about three or four feet of water in a semi-sitting position with your skis positioned at about a 45-degree angle with the surface of the water, the tips of the skis extending approximately one to two feet above the surface.

Grasping the rope tightly you nod or yell "hit it" and before you realize what has happened you are gaily skimming the water at a breakneck speed.

I was not so fortunate, however, to plane the water on my first attempt, but after three tries I had progressed to the state of elevation. Many find it more difficult to remain up than to get up in the first place. Within two or three hours, however, you will have answered the challenge and find to your amazement that you have quite a bit of control over your direction and angle of incidence.

It may take some time and maybe you'll never have complete control. However, like anything else, that is probably one of its attractions.

Having progressed this far, the next step is the slalom or one ski. This is where you have to call on all your physical and mental resources.

The best method is to start as usual and then drop one ski. Chances are you'll find yourself submerged with no desire to try again. After time to retrieve your wind you try again and if you have any sense of balance left, in no time you will have mastered the art.

Of course it takes time and experience before you will look like those cuties in the news reels, but then, most of us are not physically equipped to look like that no matter what we are doing.

On the Trails

By Bill Wark

The year 1924 will be long remembered by the mountain folks. This was the year of the great fire that destroyed 70 square miles of our mountain brush and timber.

Also, this was the year that Fred and Margarite La Lone arrived with a Model T car, a Model T truck, their furniture and 10 children to make their home in Sierra Madre.

They had been traveling for 15 days, crossing the mountains and the wide, hot desert, and camping out in the evening.

In those days most of the roads were dirt, sand and plank boards. Many were the cars that the La Lone family roped to their truck and pulled out of the soft sand. Perhaps these were their first rescues.

THE WARM friendliness of the La Lone family was soon felt in the village, and their home quickly became a gathering place for old and young alike. Football and hockey games were played on the empty lot next door, and the city park was deserted by the young folk, most of them preferring to play at the La Lones' house.

The La Lone children took to the hills like ducks to a pond. They loved the mountains, liked helping people, and were often called upon to aid in finding lost or injured hikers in our mountains. And it was from this family group that the Search and Rescue crew was formed.

Earl, second in command of our crew, was born and raised in Sierra Madre. He has been with the crew since the beginning and has participated in almost 100 per cent of our mountain rescues.

HE QUICKLY realized the need for first aid training and to him belongs the credit for the group taking these courses.

Earl spent five years in the service. It was while he was in the Army that his pretty wife, Margaret, and two other Sierra Madre girls were involved in a serious accident when they were driving north to visit their husbands.

Margaret was critically injured and it was only her fine spirit and will to live that carried her through the trying time that followed.

After months in the hospital, then a long period in a wheel chair, Margaret walked again. She has surely been of great assistance to our cause and the entire crew is quite proud of her.

EARLY ONE MORNING Earl and Margaret received a call informing them that a member of their household, one Spooky, had been picked up by our local police in the wee morning hours and booked on a vagrancy charge (traveling from place to place with no visible means of support).

Margaret dashed to his aid and found him happily chomping on a bunch of delicious grapes that Officers Ed Cate, Ralph Twedell and Chief McMillan had procured for him. Spooky (Earl's pet raccoon) and the officers seemed to have equally enjoyed his visit to the Police Department.

EARL AND EDWARD are practically permanent fixtures on the Chantry Flats road. There is seldom an evening you can drive to the Flats without seeing them spotting deer, foxes, coyotes, hawks and owls through their glasses and Earl's 25-power spotting scope.

Fred La Lone Sr., a fine old gentleman, must have a warm feeling of pride when he looks over his large family—from Josephine, the eldest, who has taught Sunday School all through the years, to Earl, the youngest and a good member of our Rescue crew. It is perhaps the most colorful family group in our town.

MRS. WESLEY HALL JAMES

Gwendolyn Ann Rippee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason C. Rippee, 1575 Old House Road, exchanged nuptial vows with Wesley Hall James, son of Mrs. Juliann James of Pasadena, Sept. 4 at Central Christian Church in Pasadena with Rev. Wesley P. Ford officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned with a long sleeved bodice of appliqued lace and nylon tulle topped by a sweetheart neck. The full bouffant skirt was of pleated tulle over satin with appliqued lace. Her fingertip French illusion veil was caught by a scalloped seed pearl crown made by her mother. She carried a Rainbow Bible with a spray of phylenopsis. For something old, she carried a silk handkerchief belonging to the groom's father.

The maid of honor, Saundra Rippee, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Diane Kemp, Mariann Geyer, Carol Graham and Hanelle Rippee, cousin of the bride, wore Nile green crystaline over matching taffeta frocks and carried bouquets of white phylenopsis with green satin bows and fern.

Kit Armstrong was flower girl and Roger Davis, cousin of the bride, carried the wedding rings on a pillow made by his mother.

The bride's mother was attired in a pale blue lace dress accented by white accessories and the groom's mother wore a pink crepe ensemble with pink and white accessories.

A reception was held in the church lounge immediately following the ceremony.

Dean Toland was best man and the guests were seated by Gary Heck, Ronald Shane, Barry Graham and Ronald Rippee, brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Pasadena High School and attended Pasadena City College. She is a past Worthy Advisor of Temple City.

The groom is a graduate of Pasadena City College and is now stationed at Fort Ord with the U.S. Army. He completed his basic training at Fort Lewis, Washington.

The newly married couple honeymooned at the new Flamingo Hotel in Arcadia and Lake Arrowhead.

Bristlecone Pine — a Stubby Champion

The largest Pine tree in circumference yet to be found in the United States is a Bristlecone Pine growing in Inyo National Forest on the east slope of the Sierra Nevadas south of Mono Lake. This tree has a girth of almost 38 feet but is only 40 feet in height. The American Forestry Association ranks it as No. 8 in its list of the largest girthed trees of each species in the U.S.A.

The Bristlecone Pine (Pinus aristata) is closely related to the Foxtail Pine (Pinus balfouriana). Both species of Pine grow in our high western mountains. They retain their clusters of 5 short needles for 10 or 15 years or more, simulating the bushy aspect of a fox's tail.

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957!

Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news . . . a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because . . .

This is Where Tomorrow Starts . . . with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whiplash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them—six elbows wide in each seat, with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

The 1957 Ford rides low, solid, with a firm, deep road-holding feel. Yet it's a light-hearted, flight-hearted ride—this car is responsive, nimble, agile, with a proud easy movement.

The New Ford Choice

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars . . . each on its own extended wheelbase . . . each with its own body shell . . . each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!

The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives.

They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!
